OUR STORY

NEW ZEALAND

In 2018, Kevin and Emily Fannan travelled to New Zealand and rented a converted campervan for their journey. They had an incredible time exploring the country's wonders, and quickly became avid enthusiasts of the nomadic lifestyle.

A TASTE OF VANLIFE

The onset of COVID-19 unexpectedly presented Kevin and Emily with a unique opportunity: purchasing their own van for weekend travel escapades. During tough time, their van became a symbol of resilience and adventure, allowing them to create cherished memories while navigating the new normal. Vanlife became more than a hobby, but a part of who they were as people.

FULL TIMERS

In a bold move, Kevin and Emily took their Vanlife passion to the next level. They sold their condo and most of their belongings, and fully embraced the nomadic lifestyle, making their van their permanent home for the next 9 months. Their journey took them from breathtaking landscapes in national parks, to bustling cityscapes and picturesque beaches. They reconnected with lost friends on the road while also immersing themselves in diverse cultures. This experience radically changed them for the better.

They believed that vanlife could propell anyone into a world of endless possibilities!

OUR STORY

SHARING THE EXPERIENCE

Wanting to share their experience with others, Kevin and Emily decided to start a campervan rental company. With the help of their long time friend Ilan Ghitman, they started Scenic Vans in the storage shed of their new home in Newcastle, California.

The goal of Scenic was simple: to inspire and empower others to embrace the freedom of the road and the beauty of minimalist living. They did not want Scenic to just provide vehicles, but instead offer a gateway to unforgettable experiences, encouraging people to explore, connect, and create lifelong memories.

EARLY SUCCESS

Scenic Vans quickly became a beacon for avid travelers and curious souls alike. Social media buzz, glowing reviews, and heartfelt testimonials turned their humble idea into a sensation, with bookings flooding in from every corner. What started as a passion project, blossomed into a community, connecting people through the shared love for Vanlife. Two vans quickly became twelve and thousands of nights rented per year.

CAN YOU BUILD US A VAN?

Amidst the overwhelming demand, guests started asking if Scenic could build them their very own adventure vehicle. Two years later, Scenic now builds over 20 vans a year, has an always growing staff, is located in a large commercial manufacturing facility, and is one of the premier custom van fabricators in the nation.

Clients find Scenic Vans appealing because its founders actually experienced Vanlife and comprehend the ideal features and layouts that make a van perfect for travel. Additionally, Scenic Vans' extensive rental operation has given them loads of data ensuring that all of their vans are sufficiently durable and high quality to allow for worry-free and truly unforgettable adventures.
